

Local Shares: What to Do and Where to Eat in and Around Local Shares

Local Shares is a community-supported agriculture (CSA) program that connects consumers with local farmers. By purchasing a share in the program, members receive a weekly box of fresh, seasonal produce. Local Shares also offers a variety of educational programs and events, as well as a farm store where members can purchase additional farm products.

In addition to the CSA program, Local Shares also operates a farm-to-table restaurant, The Local Eatery. The restaurant offers a seasonally changing menu that features dishes made with ingredients from the farm. The Local Eatery also hosts a variety of events, such as cooking classes and farm dinners.

Local Shares is located in the heart of the Hudson Valley, a region known for its agricultural abundance. The farm is situated on 120 acres of rolling hills and pastures, and it is home to a variety of animals, including cows, pigs, chickens, and sheep.
